

Salaried GP with an interest in Research Priory Medical Group

Work in the Beautiful and Unique City of York

<https://www.yorkshire.com/>

Priory Medical Group is a large Partnership bringing together 9 practices across the City of York with a total practice population of 58k.

We are looking to fill a vacancy for a salaried GP with a specific interest in Research. We are an RCGP Research Ready accredited practice and an active participant in multiple clinical trials. We are frequently the highest trial patient recruiter in General Practice.

We are actively growing our research activities (commercial and non-commercial) and wish to expand our existing Research Team.

We are able to consider a variety of working arrangements to suit the successful applicant, for example working across more than one site, or varying numbers of sessions to fit with commitments outside of your Practice role.

We have a range of skills across the wider partnership including those working within Training and Education, LMCs, CCGs and provider Federations. We encourage and support any prospective colleagues to pursue other interests and we would be happy to provide mentorship if desired.

We have a high performing “back office” team to relieve you of the administration work usually associated with General Practice leaving you free to focus on your patient’s clinical needs and completing research activities

Number of sessions open to discussion
Competitive Salary
